With age our skin becomes more susceptible to wrinkles & sagging which is often challenging for the patient. The solution to these and other difficult situations is a new Platelet Therapy created from your own blood. Leukocyte Platelet Rich Fibrin (L-PRF) changes all the rules as it promotes healing and provides youthful skin from within your own body. Unlike other treatments that use artificial components, Platelet Therapy with L-PRF uses only your own blood. With the simple blood drawn and an advanced technology protocol, L-PRF is individually made for you – from you. The end results are improved skin quality, significantly less recovery time and long term benefit.
